Mission Statement

We are on our mission to promote health equity by working to make healthcare more accessible, inclusive, and responsive to people's needs. We are working to advance health rights through community engagement, research and advocacy.

Vision

We envision a society where every person can access healthcare, understand and exercise their rights, find supportive communities, and live with dignity without discrimination.

Values

Our work is guided by a simple belief: health is a matter of equity, rights and dignity.

1. Equity

We work towards a health system where everyone has a fair opportunity to access the care, support and resources they need.

2. Dignity

We see people beyond their illness, identity or circumstances and believe everyone deserves to be treated with respect.

3. Inclusion

We strive to create communities and systems where people feel welcomed, heard and able to participate.

4. Human Rights

We believe that access to healthcare is closely connected to equality, freedom and dignity. We work to strengthen people's understanding and exercise of their rights.

5. Lived Experience

We value people's experiences as an important source of knowledge and believe those most affected by health inequalities should have a voice in shaping solutions.

6. Community

We believe meaningful change happens with people, not simply for them. We create opportunities for people to connect, participate and contribute.

7. Evidence & Learning

We value reliable evidence, research and reflection. We remain open to learning, questioning our assumptions and improving our work.

8. Accountability

We take responsibility for our actions, use resources thoughtfully and remain transparent and accountable to the communities and partners we work with.

9. Collaboration

We believe lasting change requires people and organisations to work together. We build partnerships across communities, civil society, academia, healthcare and public institutions.

These values shape how we work, the partnerships we build and the change we seek to create.
